Will this work:

The Bond Oversight committee conducted a formal meeting June 17th, 2019, to review progress and discuss upcoming planned endeavors and budgeting. The committee toured the newly constructed maintenance building, which it found to not only be satisfactory from an appearance and budget standpoint, but it exceeded expectation. Future projects were discussed in detail, and current construction projects have been discussed and seen as well, which all appear satisfactory to this point. Vice Chair Ben Carlson then presented findings to the board of directors at the July board meeting, to which was met with board approval.

Thank you,

Ben Carlson
